Message from the Founder

Old School Foods began with the simple idea of launching a food business through selling kachoris, leading to the creation of Kachori Kaka.

From a modest menu, we've grown into multiple brands with diverse offerings, catering formats tailored to various customer needs. Success doesn't come overnight, and while we are still on our journey to achieving it, the true essence lies in the path we've traveled.

Pursue your vision, stay resilient, face challenges, and always believe in the greater good.

About the Founder

Ankur, the founder of OSF, is a passionate and innovative entrepreneur.

A proud BITS Pilani graduate with experience at Amazon, he brings a systematic and efficient approach to OSF. His love for math helps in optimizing processes and reducing food waste. Ankur’s dedication to customer satisfaction stems from his time at Amazon, where he learned to obsess over customer needs. His resilience, commitment to quality, and belief in the greater good have driven OSF's success.

We as a group of food lovers, researchers, creators, designers, and craftsmen, dive deep into understanding food before you enjoy it.
